09. Conclusion

The two-day workshop on "Cloud Computing, Generative AI, and MS Office" organized by the Department of Computer Science at Government Dr. Waman Wasudev Patankar Girls' Post Graduate College, Durg, successfully achieved its objective of providing participants with both foundational knowledge and practical skills in cutting-edge technologies.

Through expert sessions delivered by distinguished resource persons, students gained valuable insights into cloud infrastructure, storage solutions, and the transformative potential of generative AI. Practical demonstrations and hands-on activities enabled participants to create AI-generated content, engage with modern cloud tools, and enhance their proficiency in MS Office applications.

The enthusiastic participation of students and faculty, coupled with the engaging delivery by the speakers, made the workshop a dynamic learning experience. Additionally, the workshop encouraged critical thinking about the ethical dimensions of AI, fostering a more informed and responsible use of technology.

This workshop has not only strengthened the digital capabilities of our students but also prepared them to adapt and innovate in an increasingly technology-driven world. It is hoped that the skills and knowledge imparted will serve as a strong foundation for their future academic endeavours and professional careers.
